To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write a letter supporting Brianna Kappers's application to be an educator within your district. I had the pleasure to be on the hiring team that acquired her over five years ago at Riverview Middle School in Plymouth, Wisconsin. I also had the opportunity to work with Bri as a part of the 7th and 8th grade Language Arts team and even co-teaching some of our classes, with up to 60 kids in one room. I have had the pleasure of getting to know her over the last few years through collaboration, co-teaching, and in professional development where she obtained her Masters Degree. She is an intelligent, confident and caring educator. Furthermore, she is certainly a valuable asset to our grade level team.

Bri has stood out as a highly reflective, thoughtful and committed educator. She devotes her time to her lesson planning and her students. She has innovative ideas and can make changes as needed on the spot to better suit her student's needs. She is very skilled at being able to provide support to a student, and she makes herself available to offer assistance before and after school as well as during her lunch. Her drive is evident to reach her students.

In meetings, she is also extremely motivated to help students and colleagues, and she is a dignified leader. Bri has a positive attitude and is honest in her communications with colleagues which is appreciated by all.

Bri isn't afraid of taking the lead, correcting misbehaviors or trying new things which are all be important skills for an educator to have.

Bri is an extremely responsible, fun and caring individual, and I wish her the best in her move to Minnesota and her career as an educator. She would certainly be an asset to your district and your building.
