To whom it may concern,

I am proud to be able to write this letter of recommendation for Lori Conmy. She is applying for an administrative position in your district. Lori was a 4th and 5th grade teacher for six years at Longfellow.

When I look back over my career as a principal one of the best decisions I have made was the decision to hire Lori. She is a former special education teacher and is able to see her classroom through multiple lenses.

Lori understands the importance of building relationships with her students. She takes the time to get to know her class. Because of this, her students genuinely like and respect her.

Lori was a pioneer in our building. She was always willing to try new things and is as flexible as they come. During her time at Longfellow she has created a Genius Hour in her classroom where children are able to create products they are interested in that have real world applications. She also started the flexible seating movement in our school by allowing students to stand, sit at desks, or other locations. Because of her, other teachers have implemented this type of seating in their room as well.

She is also a strong leader. Lori has served on our building leadership team, chaired the student council, has served on a district accreditation team, was on the MTSS team and was our Lead Teacher at Longfellow. Anytime I needed help with something she has always been there and provides phenomenal leadership and guidance.

Overall I highly recommend Lori for an internship position. She has everything that aspiring administrators should have. Lori works well with everybody at this school, has a special education background and is one of the hardest working people around. Because of this, I do not have any concerns about ability to do this job.
